I think is in good shape to share with Enrique. We may want to add some additional shortcomings of RESRAD including that it isn't peer reviewed.

Angeles, If you haven't started looking at the last version I gave you, this one is a bit cleaner and adds a more to Legal section at the end. If generally looks OK, we can share with Enrique on next Wednesday's briefing. Again, it is only an outline. We would beef up everything a lot more in prep for submitting it as an actual dispute paper. We just want to make sure everyone likes the basic approach first.
